

COVID-19 Update

We're opening our doors on June 2nd!

It has been just over two months since we decided to temporarily close our doors to ensure the safety of our customers and team. During this time, we caught up on book work, deep cleaned the premises, and participated in a few online courses. Okay – we also joined everyone else in cleaning our closets at home and made banana bread.

Although Ontario has a long way to go, our lives with social distancing has become the new normal. With the correct parameters in place and with the public educated on how to social distance properly, we decided to re-open our doors as of Tuesday, June 2nd.

Everything COVID-19 related is new for us all so we do ask for your continued patience and understanding as learn with each day.
